Russia Proposes Big 4 Meeting On German Pact

American, Britain, France Expected To Turn Down Proposal

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union proposed today an immediate Big Four conference to reunite divided Germany and prepare for a peace treaty barring the Germans from alliances aimed at any of their World War II enemies.

Western observers, in Moscow, predicted the United States, Britain and France would turn down the proposal, which included a detailed outline of principles which the Soviets said should be the basis of the peace treaty. The Russians, said however, they would discuss other projects also.

(West Germany is one of six governments negotiating to form a European army linked to the Atlantic alliance against Communism—an alliance which Russia has insisted is aggressively directed against her.)

Plan Given Big 3

Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko handed the plan to Big Three diplomats in Moscow last night. It was made public almost immediately, in early morning Soviet broadcasts and the morning editions of Pravda and other papers.

In Washington the State Department took under "careful consideration" today Moscow's new proposal.

The Russians said they wanted big four talks on German unification and on the treaty to begin "without delay" and asked western answers to their notes "in the shortest possible time."

Says It'll Ease Tensions

A final peace with Germany was pictured in the identical Soviet notes to the western Big Three as the key to a "once and for all" easing of East-West tensions.

"The signing of a peace treaty with Germany will be conducive to the improving of the international state of affairs as a whole, thus being conducive to the establishing of a stable peace," the Soviet communication said.

(The last big four attempt to settle their differences was in a private conference in Paris last November, under United Nations auspices. It brought no agreements beyond setting up a new disarmament commission.)

Russia put the unity of Germany ahead of a peace treaty draft, saying the treaty must be worked out with the participation of a general German government.

Batista Proclaims Himself State Head

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Fulgencio Batista, Cuba's resurgent strong man, today formally proclaimed himself in charge of "all powers and functions" of both the executive and legislative branches of the government.

The former president and behind-the-scenes dictator who rose to power again yesterday in a swift, almost bloodless revolution announced a series of "statutes of government," including a 45-day suspension of the right to strike.

President Carlos Prio Socarras, who fled the presidential palace after Batista and his Junta of 15 or 20 army captains and lieutenants had seized control of all major military and police establishments here, slipped into the Mexican embassy early today and asked for asylum.

Fails To Renew License, Fined $10 And Costs

John W. Smith, 69, of RD 3, Canfield, was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Harry M. Vincent Monday for operating a car without a driver's license.

He had been stopped by police on N. Ellsworth Ave. Sunday, following a resident's complaint that his car had almost collided with two other vehicles at the intersection of N. Ellsworth Ave. and Ninth St. At that time he said he had a driver's license but had left it at home.

Monday he appeared at the City Hall and admitted that he had failed to purchase a new license.

DRIVER FINED $10

LISBON—Robert H. MacLean of Wellsboro, arrested Monday by Highway Patrol for crashing a stop sign on Route 164 near the fairgrounds, was fined $10 and costs last night by Mayor Wilbur Warren of Lisbon. MacLean pleaded guilty.

Get Car Sticker Now And Avoid Late Rush

If you want to avoid the last minute rush, you'd better get that 1952 automobile license plate sticker now.

In the nine days since the windshield stickers were placed on sale at the Automobile Club office, less than 1,000 have been sold.

Mrs. A. P. Morris, deputy registrar, estimates that 6,000 motorists and 2,000 truck drivers in the Salem district will have to obtain their windshield stickers before the April 1 deadline.

Regular metal license plates are to be issued next year.

Threats Continue In Sutton Case

Schuster's Family, Garageman Warned

NEW YORK (AP)—Death threats to a mourning family and to a garageman involved in the arrest of bank robber Willie Sutton today spurred New York City's grimest killer-hunt in a dozen years.

For 19,000 policemen the "No. 1 job" was to trap the slayer who in gangland-style Saturday night shot down pants salesman Arnold Schuster, 24. The latter's tip let to Sutton's arrest.

The scope of the manhunt was emphasized last night when Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri said he would ask the City Board of Estimate to vote a $25,000 reward "for the capture of the murderer."

Not since 1940 has the city put up such a high reward, and then it was in the killing of two detectives.

Schuster Buried

Even as Schuster was buried yesterday, the reports of new death threats extended the shadow of terror over Brooklyn.

A report said that just two hours before the funeral, Schuster's family received this warning: "One death isn't enough, there will be others." It was not clear whether the message was mailed or phoned.

Police had no comment on this report. Police Commissioner George P. Monaghan noted that a special 24-hour guard had been placed on the family.

Young Schuster received several threats before his death, and police said later he had rejected offers of a guard.

While the Schusters were at funeral, a threat was directed at Jack Peene, a garageman who was helping Sutton with a stalled car shortly before his capture Feb. 18.

A man telephoned Peene's wife,

American Jets Lambast Red Supply Base

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—American jet pilots turned a huge camouflaged Red supply base into blazing ruins today in the most intense attack of the Korean war with flaming jellied gasoline.

Flames spread over a four square mile area of the supply depot.

"It looked like hell itself," said some of the pilots, who flew a total of 250 sorties in waves.

Swarms of Red jets streaked down from Manchuria to try to protect the base near Sinnak, 30 miles northwest of the truce village, Panmunjom.

U. S. sabre jet pilots shot down three MIGs in air battles, probably destroyed another and damaged five.

That boosted Red planes KO'd 19 in two days. The Air Force reported seven MIGs downed and three damaged yesterday.

By midday Tuesday F-80 Shooting Star jets claimed destruction of 14 Communist anti-aircraft guns, 24 supply buildings, six trucks and four supply dumps.

Far East Air Force warplanes Monday racked up 1,050 individual missions. Destruction claims included 145 rail cuts, 65 trucks, 30 supply buildings, seven road bridges and two rail bridges.

The air war continued to overshadow ground action along the thawing front lines.

A U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer said the Reds Monday failed to throw a single probing attack at U. N. lines. Only a few small patrol clashes were reported.

Ike Takes Slight Lead In Primary In N. Hampshire

2 Tiny Towns Report; Record Vote Seen Despite Bad Weather

CONCORD, N. H. (AP)—General Eisenhower held a slight lead over Senator Robert A. Taft in the first-in-the-nation Republican presidential preference primary today in the first two tiny towns to report.

The towns—Waterville Valley and Millsfield—gave Eisenhower seven votes and Taft four. The combined population of the two places is only 26.

General Eisenhower got all his votes in Waterville Valley and Taft got his in Millsfield.

Two Democratic votes were cast in Millsfield. President Truman got one and Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee—his only opponent—got the other.

Harold E. Stassen, a third Republican candidate, got one vote in Millsfield.

Can't Predict Trend

There was no way to gauge the big city vote because the polls don't open in Manchester until noon and in Concord until 3 p.m.

In the smaller city of Claremont, however, there was a heavy vote of 500 in the first two hours, despite a steady rain. Observers said this was twice as many voters as in an ordinary primary.

"It looks like a record vote," one Claremont resident said.

In Waterville Valley Senator Taft got two write-in votes for vice president and Stassen got one.

The vote for delegates to the national conventions followed the pattern of the balloting on the presidential preference side.

Over 100,000 Votes Expected

Political observers expected the vote to go over the 100,000 mark, setting records for many communities. National, and even international attention, was focused on the election. Correspondents from both London and Paris were on the scene to cover the story, as well as American newsmen from virtually every part of the country.

"Nasty" weather, rain and snow, greeted early morning voters but was not expected to have any marked effect on the turnout.

Major interest focused on the struggle between Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), on the Republican side.

This is Eisenhower's first appearance in the national political arena. He is in Europe as military head of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and has neither appeared nor participated in the maneuvers in New Hampshire.

New Hampshire may be the test of Taft's vote-getting abilities. He campaigned hard in New Hampshire, making 36 speeches in three days.

On the Democratic side, the contest also marked the first efforts by Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee to become his party's standard bearer against President Truman.

Red Cross Drive Nets $4,557 To Date

Going into the second week of solicitations, Salem's annual Red Cross campaign has netted $4,557.37, Miss Hazel Linn, chapter secretary, announced today.

This figure represents a gain of approximately $1,200 over the amount reported Saturday, but still far short of the $18,280 goal. The drive is scheduled to last most of the month.

Blair K. Patterson, general chairman of the campaign, and Robert Hedderston, co-chairman, are optimistic that the quota will be met. Miss Linn reported that the drive is making "steady progress" and praised workers for their efforts.

Of the money collected, only $5,560 will go to the national headquarters, the remainder to remain with the local chapter.

Party Backs Bevan

LONDON (AP)—Aneurin Bevan today defeated an attempt by Clement Attlee's moderates to censure him for bucking the Labor party's views on rearmament. The censure motion was defeated 172-62 at a party meeting in which Attlee at one time was booed.

Government Asks Order To End Railroad Strike

C. Of C. Speaker Cites Salem's Opportunities

Strategic Location Offers Good Future, Atkinson Declares

Because of its location and available transportation, Salem now has more business opportunities than any other town of its size in the state, Herschel Atkinson, executive vice president of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, told about 60 Chamber of Commerce and civic club members at a luncheon Monday noon in the Memorial Building.

The steel industries throughout the area are developing and expanding tremendously, Atkinson explained. "World War II," Atkinson's title for the Korean conflict, has brought a great demand for steel and government and industries want their factories inland, he said.

Coastal plants stand too great a risk of attack, the Chamber official went on. For this reason, steel factories in this area are being expanded more than those farther east.

Atkinson told of new developments in transportation which will help this area's future, including conveyor belts and pipe lines for moving coal and iron ore faster to district plants.

The turnpike is another factor which he listed as a key to the Salem district's future. The better transportation which it offers cannot help but effect Salem, he said, and the Salem Chamber members should be closely studying turnpike developments to plan ahead to meet the changes which the highway will cause.

The speaker was introduced by Lloyd Gordon, president of the local Chamber.

Three persons were injured and another was arrested as the result of a truck-trailer-auto mishap which occurred at the junction of Routes 45 and 224 at Ellsworth at 5 p.m. Monday.

State Highway Patrolmen said that a truck driven east on Route 224 by Norman P. Schorr, 23, of New Kensington failed to stop for the red light at the intersection and crashed into a "south-bound auto on Route 45 operated by Elwood Fanflier, 25, of Windham, O.

The truck then careened across Route 45 and into the side of a service station-restaurant on the corner, damaging about 25 feet of wall, a door and several windows.

The passenger car driver's wife, Julia, 19, sustained fractures of the left wrist and hip, and their son, Gary, nine months, received a fracture of the right arm.

They were brought to Salem City Hospital where the woman is in poor condition and the child in fair condition today. Elwood Fanflier was treated for contusions and abrasions of the face and arms.

Schorr was charged by patrolmen for failing to obey a traffic signal and was fined $25 and costs by Mayor Lloyd Culler of Washingtonville.

Attendance High At Industrial Expo

About 1,500 adults visited the Fourth Annual Industrial Exposition at Stambaugh Auditorium in Youngstown Monday night, the first night of its six-night run.

High school freshmen and seniors are visiting the show each day in conducted tours. About 2,200 were there Monday, and 2,100 were scheduled for today.

Three hundred and three Salem High School Freshmen and Seniors have signed up for Salem day at the "expo" on Friday.

The exposition is laid out to present a continuous, integrated picture of the work done, and the jobs offered by business and industrial firms throughout the district.

Batista

CUBAN REVOLT

A tank and an armored car patrol the area around the president's palace in Havana, Cuba in this first picture out of Havana during the revolt. Gen. Fulgencio Batista, who toppled President Carlos Prio Socarras's government with a lightning coup, has set up a 13-man cabinet to rule the country. He announced the cancellation of the presidential election set for June 1.

Justice Department attorneys filed the action for the Army, which has controlled the railroads since Aug. 27, 1950. Their petition also asked the court to keep the engineers, firemen and conductors from spreading the walkout to other railroads.

Attorneys File Petitions

Two union attorneys—Clifford O'Brien for the engineers and Harold Heiss for the firemen—made an unexpected appearance in Judge Freed's court to argue against granting the government petition. O'Brien said the unions had "meritorious reasons for objecting to the restraining order."

The judge allowed a half hour recess for the union lawyers to study the government's suit, which asked temporary injunctive relief until March 21 and a hearing March 19 on making the injunction permanent.

Since the surprise strike started Sunday morning, only the New York Central Lines west of Buffalo and the St. Louis terminal have been targets of the three rail operating "brotherhoods. About 6,000 men are on strike, and an additional 25,000 New York Central employees have been laid off.

Failure to end the strike or its extension would put heads of the three unions in contempt of court and make them liable to fines and imprisonment.

The injunction request came after heads of the three unions meeting here took no action on an Army demand they end the walkout or face "appropriate action." The Army said the defense effort could not permit an interruption in transportation.

The strike has slowed down freight shipments, caused some industrial layoffs and forced about 20,000 daily NYC passengers to find other rides. Industrial layoffs would mount rapidly if the strike is prolonged.

Answers Taft Remarks

Connally, a Democrat running for re-election to the senate, promptly left fly with an answering barrage from the senate floor. Taft then declined to return the fire, saying he had no comment on Connally's senate speech.

The tall Texan accused Taft of being a "chameleon senator" willing to "subordinate his integrity and his truthfulness in order to grasp a few slimy, filthy votes."

Connally, shouting angrily and waving his arms, said Taft had charged that the Truman Administration "invited the Communists into Korea," with "an assist" from Connally as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Connally's blast kept his senate colleagues late for dinner by touching off a lengthy and stormy debate. Democrats came to Connally's defense and Republicans lit into the Texan.

Coming on the eve of today's presidential primary in New Hampshire, the exchange took on added interest. Taft is entered in that contest—a front runner along with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on the Republican ticket.

In Houston, Taft's mention of Connally's name brought scattered boos. And there was laughter and applause when Taft tore into Connally on the foreign policy issue.

Wants Action Immediately Against Unions

Injunction Expected To Be Considered Without Much Delay

BULLETIN

CLEVELAND (AP)—A federal judge today ordered three rail unions to end their strike and to keep the walkout from spreading to other lines.

CLEVELAND (AP)—The government today asked federal court to order three rail unions to end their strike against two rail lines "immediately."

Judge Emrich B. Freed was expected to consider the government's request for an injunction order without delay.

Two Honored By Greenford Firemen

THE Greenford Fire Department, which has grown in size and activities since its inception in 1942, has presented honorary badges to its first chief and a retired member.

In the picture above, Chief Ernest Eyrich, left, presents a badge to retired fireman Garth Coy, while Boyd Cronk, first chief of the department, (second from right) receives his pin from Audley Kuhns, who served as chief from 1945 to this year.

Cronk, one of the founders of the department, is a veteran among volunteer fire fighters. He was a member of the Canfield fire department 35 years and the Greenford department 10 years. He and Garth resigned from active service recently and were the first to be placed on the honor roll.

The Green Township trustees appointed Ernest Eyrich chief to succeed Audley Kuhns.

The Greenford firemen own their own station, two booster pumps and a jeep.

In addition to fighting fires in Greenford and the township's rural district, the firemen find time to sponsor civic events. Highlights are the village's annual Memorial Day service and Firemen's Festival.

The Sun Still Came Up

OHIOANS who survived the great oleo fight in their midst a while back are wondering what the fighting was about would feel at home in New York, now in the midst of the same fight.

For the first time in the history of the state, a bill to legalize the manufacture of colored oleo has come to a vote in the state assembly, after passage by 90 to 52 in the lower house, the bill was sent to the senate, where a favorable vote is expected.

The bitterness of the debate in New York has not been diminished by the fact 40 states now are selling colored oleo. Exactly the same claims made in every state where the issue was allowed to come to a public decision were revived in New York. The sun, which also was yellow, would not come up if the dairy lobby's point of view were rejected.

Essentially the claims add up to the one broad claim that if consumers are allowed to choose between butter and oleo having the same appearance the result will be disastrous to butter. That simply is not true. And even if it were true—even if butter could not hold its own in fair competition—why should one part of the food industry be permitted to inflict terms of unfair competition on a competitive part?

Fence Busters

SPEAKING of fence-busters, as the baseball writers are right now, the great American fan is conscious of a certain similarity.

Every March, a couple dozen banjo hitters and bat wavers whose officials averages at the plate approximate their off-season weights begin to knock down the fences.

The baseball writers acknowledge this. It is news, like a Fair Dealer giving a mink coat the cold shoulder. If the weak sisters continue hitting sprees into the beginning of the exhibition season, the writers begin to speculate that a miracle may have happened after all.

There is a strong similarity between this sort of thing and politics. Up in training camp in New Hampshire a lot of things have been happening which would lead an over-gullible fan to believe a great many things must be so which simply can't be so, barring a miracle. Before the enthusiastic audiences of as few as 40 people, according to the fine print, the nation is being saved. World championships are being decided. Even rookies whose names will be forgotten when the regular season opens are knocking the ball out of the parks and knocking out themselves for good measure.

Story With No Moral

EVERYTHING possible will be done by the New York police force to find the murderer of a young salesman named Arnold Schuster. But that probably won't be enough to undo the damage Schuster's violent death has done to the police.

When Schuster noticed the much-wanted bank robber, Willie Sutton, on a train and tipped off the police, he was thinking of the large rewards posted for Sutton's arrest—a total of some $70,000. But the rewards did not materialize.

Schuster was not even mentioned by the policemen who arrested Sutton and had to retain a lawyer to obtain recognition. All he received for his pains was a series of threatening letters culminating in a successful attack on his life. To thousands of New Yorkers it was a dramatic demonstration that there is everything to be lost and nothing to be gained by cooperating with the police in the apprehension of criminals.

Unless the damage can be undone, the New York police might as well give up any hope of voluntary help from people like Arnold Schuster.

Food For Thought

OFF the beaten path of momentous developments, but rough up the alley for everyone who ever munched packaged cereals at a breakfast table, is the news that one of the best-known manufacturers of corn flakes is coming out with a changeable picture box.

Succeeding editions of these boxes, each with a different picture, are expected to catch the eye of supermarket shoppers. But that is not why the idea strikes a breakfast-cereal muncher with the impact of a day's minimum requirement of life-giving vitamins.

Rather it is because munchers have been looking at cereal boxes morosely for years, reading every word on them, including the premium offers, the pats. Pending and the prize-winning recipes for using more of the contents. In recent years, adults have been poring over directions for building jet planes, bad likenesses of horse-opera stars and patriotic messages.

Every month, though, a new picture... gee, Mom, that's going to be super!

In New Hampshire

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Republicans Overlooked Opportunities

WASHINGTON
WHATEVER else the New Hampshire primary may prove to those politically minded citizens who like to compare the relative merits of the candidates, it doesn't prove that the Republican spokesmen have learned as yet how to win votes for the Republican ticket itself.

Instead of a contest between candidates or their sponsors seeking to demonstrate their ability on the stump to expose the weaknesses of the Truman administration or to extol the strong points of the Republican Party, the rival speakers have devoted themselves unnecessarily to a disparagement of the other fellow's fitness to become an effective Republican nominee.

Dispatches telling of attacks by Senator Robert Taft on General Eisenhower and the attacks by former Governor Harold Stassen on Senator Taft, as read by voters throughout the country, seem to emphasize personalities rather than principles.

MAYBE THE various Republican speakers think such a technique is important as a vote-getting proposition, but it would have been refreshing if the campaign in New Hampshire had been devoted wholly to a thorough exposure of the Truman administration and to a recital of the reasons why a house-cleaning conducted by the Republican Party would be beneficial to the country as a whole.

What some of the Republicans prominent in national politics do not seem yet to have grasped is that, if President Truman doesn't run, a new Democratic nominee who is skillful with the civil rights issue will start off with an enrollment of Democrats constituting a substantial majority of the voters in this country. With New Hampshire turning the spotlight of publicity on Republican methods of campaigning, apparently little use has been made of the extraordinary opportunity given the Republicans in that spectacular primary race.

It wasn't at all necessary to indulge in personalities because the different candidates, through their spokesmen, really represented differing approaches to national and international policy, and the public would have been intensely interested in a thorough debate on the individual viewpoints of Senator Taft, Stassen, and General Eisenhower on the major issues.

While General Eisenhower himself could not campaign, his speeches before he went to Europe and the articles that have been published reflecting his views give a definite impression of what his ideas are on domestic and foreign policy. His views are as open to criticism as are the views of his rivals.

SENATOR TAFT has a good story to tell audiences. He is a forthright speaker, and he knows his subject very intimately. An exposition of his ideas on what must be done on the major problems of the day is far more interesting than comments on General Eisenhower's ability as a future campaigner. Governor Stassen has some interesting ideas on foreign and domestic policy. This was the time to explain them in detail.

There are more state primaries to come. They will give further opportunities to the competing candidates to demonstrate why each thinks he is fitted to be the standard bearer. It would seem that a speaker who proves his ability to demolish the record of the incumbent administration is far more likely to appeal to Republicans in the various primaries as the man best able to lead them in the actual campaign than a debater who tends to accentuate the cleavages between factions in the party.

For, once the pre-convention campaign is over, it will require the wholehearted effort of all the Republicans behind whatever candidate is nominated if the election is to be won.

WHILE THERE IS every reason to believe from the present outlook that Truman would be beaten overwhelmingly or that, at best for the Democrats, the election would be thrown into the House of Representatives where Truman certainly would be eliminated, there is strong possibility that some Democrat other than Truman—it could still be Chief Justice Vinson—would make a stronger race than the Republicans now are expecting.

The New Hampshire primaries should have been a rehearsal or testing ground for the major campaign. It might well teach a lesson to the Republican contenders that future harmony will come better from debates on issues rather than from attacks on persons in the same political party.

Charter Member

By TRUMAN TWILL

SOME of my best friends are goats of a kind. So it is with some small sense of shame that we do this sign-off piece on Oley the Twillery goat. The real thing—not a moving picture.

Oley was incredible most of the time, but he was very real. Oley is entitled to this recognition by virtue of his long standing as a symbol. He has been the albatross suspended from an unwilling neck, the fly in the ointment, the so-and-so that turns up in every crowd.

Coming to the Twillery as a goatee, he grew into a full beard in less than a year. There seemed to be no limit to his growth and his appetite. Plant a new tree or a shrub, and within 24 hours Oley would have figured out a way to jump over a fence and gobble it up. The next day he would be an inch larger in all dimensions.

Put up a new gate and the creep would spend the next week hanging on it by his neck until it was ruined. It made no sense to questioners who were told this was endured because of sentimental reasons; that Oley was part of the original Twillery menage in RFD and therefore entitled to consideration as a charter member.

Finally this made no sense to the fantastic beast's defenders, either. All his transgressions and offenses against the ordinary animal decencies were enlarged as though they had been flashed on a giant screen with a giant projector.

The indictment was overwhelming.

The tea roses he had consumed... The ornamental maple trees he had stripped... the innumerable times he had stepped on human feet... the blank look in his mild green eyes with their square pupils...

His butting and crowding... the plaintive cries uttered at odd hours of the day and night, like an abandoned, hungry infant... his distaste for rainfall, which he viewed disdainfully from a spot just inside the barn door...

His inordinate love for children, who returned it, being young and foolish... His butting admiration for Sam the Ram, whose head was as hard as his... His habit of getting into feed boxes and mangers with all four feet... His passion for biting buttons off clothing, sniffing saws in motion, peering over the shoulder of anyone foolish enough to work in a kneeling position while he was around... his hobby of pulling down or knocking down everything within reach and walking on it...

Oley, old boy, you were a card. But we changed trump.

We have just made a telephone check to be sure the arrangements made with the man in the truck came off as scheduled. The man was to take Oley away to a new life elsewhere, mindful of the 10 to 1 odds being given by Oley's long-suffering patrons that within 30 minutes of the departure he would be back, Oley, that is, driving the truck with the man tied up in the rear.

The 30 minutes had passed. All was serene. There is this one thing to be said in praise of Oley—that getting rid of him is a stimulating sample of what it would be like to wake up some morning to the absence of a lot of other annoyances.

Oley passed many years with the inhabitants of the Twillery. They were not pleasant. Even a charter member must go sometime.

"He's New Around Here, Ain't He?"

Another British Error Hurts U. S.

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

IN 1931, when the Japanese invaded Manchuria, Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson proposed to intervene with the object of preserving the territorial and administrative integrity of China as was guaranteed by the Nine Powers Treaty (1922). Sir John Simon, then minister of foreign affairs for Great Britain, turned Stimson down.

President Hoover made private inquiries in Great Britain and discovered that there was no intention in that country to limit Japan's expansion, although that event led directly to the death of the League of Nations and World War II.

WHEN General Douglas MacArthur was in Japan, he encountered stiff British opposition, particularly on economic measures looking forward to the rehabilitation of Japan. A constant campaign of ridicule was conducted against General MacArthur in the British press and by means of all the agencies of British propaganda. Great Britain's premature recognition of Soviet China has been an embarrassment to the United States and has forced upon our administration what might be termed the Marshall policy in the Far East which has been costly in American lives in the Korean war.

These two errors have brought to Great Britain no benefits. The first lost her an empire; the second may lose her American support and friendship as well as China trade.

Now the British are engaged in making a third error, namely, a constant vilification of John Foster Dulles, who did manage to get a Japanese peace treaty and the Pacific security pact written and accepted. Even those who find flaws in the Japanese treaty admit that, considering the many conflicting views, the intransigence of Soviet Russia and the confusions of both American and British policy, Dulles, personally, did better than could have been expected.

BRITISH POLICY is based on the single objective of keeping America focussed on Europe and the preservation of the remaining remnants of the British empire. Therefore, any diversion of attention is resented and found to be offensive. John Foster Dulles has emphasized the Pacific and its importance in American life and history, therefore, Dulles is to be ridiculed.

There is a sort of newsletter called "foreign report," published by "The Economist" in London. This paper speaks of "... an important ginger group inside the Truman administration has now begun pressing for a tougher American policy against Communist China."

Apparently that is a crime after we have had more than 106,000 casualties in Korea and have wasted eight months in futile conversation with the Communists while they have improved their military position. Calling John Foster Dulles the leader of this group, the aforesaid London newsletter, which is recognized as having close relations with the British foreign office, describes Dulles as "... consultant to the secretary of state in the present administration, and who is—or thinks he is—a candidate for the job of secretary of state if the Republicans win the election."

That is an extremely nasty dig, implying that Dulles sacrifices American welfare to personal ambition which really has nothing to do with the problems we face. No one can now say who will be secretary of state, should a Republican be elected president, but whoever it might be, Dulles will be consulted on Far Eastern questions as will General MacArthur. And it is probable that he will be considered for the secretary of state.

IT WOULD BE smart if British publications and British propaganda showed us the courtesy of permitting us to choose our own leadership and our own counsel. In previous campaigns, particularly in the Roosevelt campaigns, there was too much British activity against Americans in opposition to the administration. This conduct will not be tolerated in the 1952 campaign and will be exposed if attempted.

The very term, isolationist, wholly incomprehensible in American history, was of British origin, designed to smear Herbert Hoover, Charles Lindbergh, William Randolph Hearst, Colonel Robert R. McCormick and other American leaders. What they said between 1938 and 1945 has been correct in substance. The smearing of John Foster Dulles is of a pattern which is deeply resented in this country. If we quarrel among ourselves, it is our quarrel, but when outsiders interfere, we shall unite in telling them to mind their own business. American intend to do their own choosing, without consultations.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Seborrhea Causes Falling Hair

THERE are many causes for falling hair, but among them is a condition known medically as seborrhea. Seborrhea is commonly divided into two varieties; one, dry Seborrhea, or dandruff, and the other, oily seborrhea. Both of these conditions are more common in the scalp than elsewhere, but may extend down to the eyebrows, face, and even other parts of the body.

In oily seborrhea, the hair and scalp feel greasy and are hard to keep clean because dirt floating in the air sticks, and the hair follicles tend to clog up with oil and tiny scales of skin, dirt and the like. This certainly does not make for healthy scalp or hair.

What is responsible for either form of seborrhea has not been determined. No living parasite or germ has been identified, though there are reasons to believe that some kind of infection may be at least partially at fault. However, seborrhea of either kind commonly starts after the general health has been lowered by such things as infection or fatigue. Anemia, constipation, indigestion, lack of fresh air and exercise, and the wearing of stiff and ill-ventilated hats are also believed to contribute to the development of seborrhea. All these can be considered as predisposing causes. There is no easy or quick cure for seborrhea. If some chronic, weakening disease is present, it should, of course be treated. Also such conditions as anemia or constipation should be taken care of.

Other than such obvious lines of attack, treatment is aimed at improving the general health and at local treatment of the scalp and involved skin itself.

In the first category, open-air exercise and sunlight are often helpful. Tonics and nutritious food, cod-liver oil, adequate sleep, and any other measures aimed at improving the general physique are worth-while.

The local treatment of seborrhea involves first the removal of the crusts and accumulated fatty material and later use of stimulating applications. The removal of the crusts and debris at first may be accompanied by the loss of a good deal of hair.

The fatty accumulations are first soaked with some oily fluid to aid in removal. This is followed by thorough and frequent washing with soap and water.

Sulphur, resorcin, salicylic acid and mercury preparations are frequently used in the form of ointments or lotions after the removal of the scales. The condition frequently resists treatment and tends to come back unless treatment is continued for weeks or months after the skin appears to be normal.

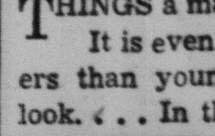

Hot stars like the sun are believed to maintain their heat by the conversion of hydrogen into helium, the same process that may someday be used in a hydrogen bomb.

Facts From Reading Mail

NEW YORK
THINGS a man learns from reading his mail: It is even more important for older workers than young workers to avoid a sloppy look... In the boss' eye carelessness in personal grooming is a "time-to-retire him" signal... A survey by the Northwestern National Life Insurance Company of 3,000 male policyholders showed only 24 per cent wanted to quit altogether at 65. Some 39 per cent wanted to keep their present jobs, and 37 per cent wanted to slow down a bit but keep doing something useful...

Hal Boyle

BOXING has been under intermittent public attack ever since the days when the Romans pummeled each other to death in the arena... But it is still big business... Some 215,000 men engaged in prize fights in 1951, of whom 24,365 were professionals... There were four deaths, but only one was in a professional bout... Boxing gloves were first used in modern times in a bout in Paris in 1818... An Englishman won... This is not so strange, however... His opponent was English, too.

RACING is known as "the sport of kings," but do you know what king actually ran a footrace with a horse?... It was Thomas Jefferson's old foe, George the Third of England... He became a little balmy upstairs after losing America... You know, of course, why some Saints are pictured with square instead of round halos?... The square halo indicates the Saint was still alive when the portrait was made...

FEW IF ANY presidential candidates today have or need the lungpower of George Whitefield, famous 18th century Methodist missionary... He could speak loudly enough to be heard by 20,000 people... Actor David Garrick once said Whitefield's oratorical power was so great he could reduce an audience to tears merely by the way he pronounced "Mesopotamia"... Any politician now can get the same result by saying "taxes"...

Half the blindness among New York children of pre-school age is caused by a disease unheard of a decade ago... Called retrolental fibroplasia, it affects only premature infants of low weight... CROSS-EYED and near-sighted children usually rank among the best students, the American Optometric Association says... It also found color-blindness is five times as common among boys as girls... But it is the girls who grow up and buy those Christmas neckties...

Naturally, you've been wondering for years how fast a gold ball spins... The answer is 3,000 to 5,000 revolutions per minute—if you hit it well... A high-lofted ball with a good back-spin may reach 8,000...

A POLL of 170,000 defense plant workers showed that 75 per cent used private cars to get to work... In Detroit the figure is 88 per cent... Well, anything to keep from getting into an argument with a bus driver... Mosquitoes will soon be out again... You may be depressed to know that instead of about 400 varieties known 50 years ago science now figures there are between 1700 and 2,500 kinds... Here's a new way to fight them—Carry a warm billiard ball around in your hand... Tests have shown that some are dumb enough to sting heated billiard balls.

Of course, that could be just another argument for staying out of pool halls during the summer months... (AP Newfeatures)

Truman Favored In Pennsylvania

Democrats Promise
Presidential Backing

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Should President Truman decide to run again for the Democratic presidential nomination he can count on strong support from the Pennsylvania convention delegation.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois currently is rated ahead of Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, according to delegates who expressed their views in an Associated Press poll.

The statewide poll today, six weeks before Pennsylvania's April 22 primary, shows 21 convention votes definitely set for Mr. Truman—if he is a candidate.

Pennsylvania has 70 convention votes. Twenty delegates-at-large already have been selected by the Democratic State Committee. Each has a half vote.

Another 32 delegates are unopposed at the primary and can be regarded as elected, although any of them could be defeated by a write-in vote. There are primary contests in only 14 of the state's 30 congressional districts with 48 men and women seeking the 28 convention seats.

The AP poll reached 11 of the 20 at-large delegates, 26 of the 32 unopposed and 42 of the 48 who are opposed—a total of 79. Here's how they say they would vote on the first ballot:

Truman 48, Stevenson 7, Kefauver 2 "Favorite Son" 1, undecided 20. This includes the votes of six at-large and 18 unopposed district candidates who said they are for Truman, and will cast 21 votes at the convention.

Asked to make a second presidential choice the 79 turned in this boxscore:

Truman 5, Stevenson 27, Kefauver 6, Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia 1, Chief Justice Vinson of the Supreme Court 1, undecided 39.

Almost all of the delegate candidates are people of considerable experience in the party, firmly loyal to the state and national Democratic organization. Many of them shared in drafting the recent resolution in which the Democratic State Committee urged President Truman to be a candidate for re-election.

Immigrant Cleared Of Carrying Disease

OTTAWA (AP) — Big, blond Willi Bruentjen, an immigrant German farmhand, flies back to Vancouver tonight with $50 in his pocket and the happy knowledge that he didn't bring Canada's current outbreak of foot and mouth disease from a German farm.

He was cleared last night of suspicion he might be the innocent carrier of the cattle disease after 11 days of federal laboratory tests. But the mystery of the scourge which struck in Saskatchewan and brought turmoil to Canada's livestock and meat industries still was unsolved.

Bruentjen got new boots, sweater and pants to replace those used in the laboratory tests, besides the $50 paid him for time spent at the laboratory.

Authorities feared that the 27-year-old Bruentjen might have brought the dread cattle virus on his clothes from a farm in Germany where he worked and where it broke out before his departure.

Farmers Union Head Raps Farm Bureau

DALLAS (AP) — President James G. Patton of the National Farmers Union has accused the rival Farm Bureau Federation of obstructing legislation beneficial to family farmers.

"Farmers Union has had to fight the Farm Bureau on almost every proposal to benefit the family farmers," Patton said in an address prepared for the opening session of the union's 50th annual national convention.

"The record of the Farm Bureau's obstruction in regard to federally generated public power, rural electrification, rural telephones, and valley authorities, is well known despite the fact Farm Bureau leaders operate mainly behind the scenes," said Patton.

In an interview, Patton told newsmen that farm vote would probably go to a democrat for president this year.

He said farmers make up an independent voting bloc which was swayed by the candidates' views on farm legislation.

It is estimated that the United States uses about 28 million commercial Christmas trees a year.

NEW YORK — The place of prints in spring fashion is an important one. Though prints can almost be regarded as hardy perennials, these for 1952 get a new handling that marks them as very different from those of other years.

Generally, the spring print is small, neat and subdued. It's a ladylike pattern, a complement to the monotone coat that tops it. But, where a print does become large, it is unrelated to the wild prints of the past, and it is attractive.

Colors are coordinated, not clashed. Thus, taupe, gray, black, and white may be combined in a pattern that's fairly large but that gets a harmonious effect.

A pure silk shantung afternoon dress (right) by Eisenberg has a beige background for a tiny, navy whirlpool scattered print. Cardigan front runs from neck to hemline and is edged in the same navy blue shantung used for the cap sleeves. A full skirt is given a smooth hipline through use of pintuck pleats.

Larger print (left) appears in a coat-and-dress ensemble from this same house. Here, pure silk is printed in taupe, gray, black, and white. Dress has short sleeves and square neckline with bow at one side. Skirt is straight.

Matching coat has roll collar and three-quarter sleeves. It's completely lined in taupe changeable taffeta and horsehair. The very full skirt has stitched pleats.

WHEN A WOMAN is lucky enough to take a winter vacation and to spend that vacation in the tropics, the first thing she thinks of is a suit.

She knows she will need it en route and even after she arrives. There are times, even in the tropics, when the weather becomes downright chilly.

The suit she will dream of owning is one that won't wrinkle, will be neither too warm nor too light, that will maintain its crisp look. A new and ideal suiting that has these assets is now available to women. It's made of 55 per cent spun dacron and 45 per cent wool. This means that it's highly wrinkle-resistant, that it stays crisp, that it's lightweight but warm enough to ward off a cool wind or a sudden drop in the temperature.

From Ben Gaynes (left) comes a suit in this highly adaptable fabric. In tiny checks and the color gray, it has a neat fitted jacket with arched hipline. Skirt goes wide and full, has six gores. Another suit from this house (right) shows the skirt with the straight line. Done in a frost point, it has a double-breasted jacket with interesting curved and slashed pockets.

For Normal Driving—It Loafs!

You cross over the boundary into another state—and there are the posted rules and regulations.

Maybe the daytime limit for passenger cars is "forty-five"—or "fifty-five." Or, maybe no limit at all... just your own good common sense and the general rules of safety.

Well, whatever the legal limit, your Golden Anniversary Cadillac is going to "loaf"!

Down under its hood is the most powerful engine ever used in a standard American passenger car. There's more power there than you'll ever need—except for emergency.

But don't think that power doesn't work for you—even when you're driving within the legal limits!

It works for your safety... because a great reserve of power is a wonderful safeguard in most of the driving emergencies that present themselves.

It works for your comfort... because no car rides so well, or handles so superbly, as when it "coasts along," with a great percentage of its power still under the accelerator.

And it works for your peace of mind... for it is unbelievably comforting to know you have tremendous acceleration, should the necessity for it arise.

Of course, power has to be harnessed and handled in order to be your friend and servant.

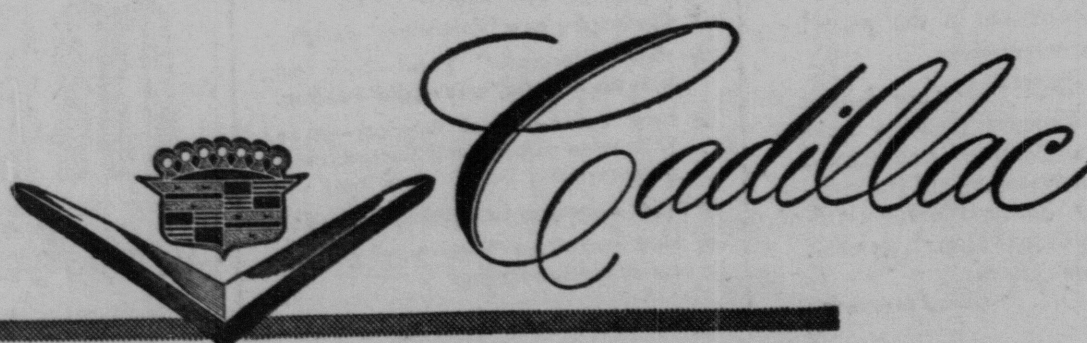

So the Golden Anniversary Cadillac has superb new brakes—larger and more efficient—and designed and built to double the span of their endurance.

And those who want the ultimate in easy handling may order at extra cost Cadillac's new power steering that eliminates up to seventy-five per cent of normal steering effort.

It would take a volume to tell you all the things that have been done to make this a "car among cars." But it will take but a mile or a minute for you to sense what it means in terms of pleasure and satisfaction.

It means something wonderful... too wonderful, in fact, to miss!

Better come in today—for a look—and a ride—and a revelation.

Lutheran Church To Be Dedicated

Rev. Voelm Accepts Ministry Here

COLUMBIANA — Jerusalem Lutheran congregation will lay the cornerstone of its new church at South and Duquesne Streets in a service at 3 p.m. next Sunday, to which the public is invited.

Rev. A. A. Anderson, pastor, will have charge of the service, and the address will be by Rev. Dr. L. M. Schleisser of Martin Luther Church, Youngstown, president of the Augustana Conference of the American Lutheran Church, embracing Northeastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania.

Contents of the cornerstone of the original church, built in 1868, and those added when the church was remodeled in 1913, will be placed in the new cornerstone with mementoes of the present. In the original cornerstone was a nickel coin of 1868 coinage, added when the church was remodeled, is tarnished. Other samples of 1868 money are 10, 25 and 50-cent "shin plaster" notes, graded in size and similar to the paper currency of the present, but smaller.

ALL SOCKED AWAY—Faced with a critical housing problem after her collie, Pippin, had 11 puppies, Mrs. Theo Rubright, of Chicago, solved it by hanging up the pups in socks.

The original cornerstone receptacle also contained a German hymn book published in 1857; German Bible published in 1860; "Lutheran Standard" of July 1, 1868; German church paper of July 15, 1868; constitution of Jerusalem Church written in German and dated Sept. 30, 1868; list of contributors and amounts given by each for the church building, and the nickel coin.

ADDED IN 1913 were a Joint Synod of Ohio catechism and constitution of the church dated 1900; "Luther League Review" of 1913; "Lutheran Standard" of July 5, 1913; "Lutherische Kirchenzeitung" of July 12, 1913; "Lutheran Youth" of July 19, 1913; "Columbiana Ledger" of July 16, 1913; leason leaves for adult Sunday school classes of 1913; constitution of Ladies Aid Society, list of church officers, and 1913 nickel.

Additions this year will probably be a picture of the old church; 1952 currency; church year book and current "Columbiana Ledger," "Lutheran Standard," "Church Messenger," and the congregational constitution. Rev. Mr. Anderson, who came here from Maryland, is in the fourth year of his ministry at Jerusalem Church.

REV. DONALD J. Voelm of Hough Avenue Evangelical and Reformed Church, Cleveland, has accepted a call to the pastorate of Grace Church, recently tendered him by a virtually unanimous vote of the congregation after a trial sermon two weeks ago. Rev. Voelm, who has been pastor at Hough Avenue six years, will assume his pastorate here about May 1. Grace Church has been without a pastor since the last Sunday in January, when Rev. Waldo J. Bartels concluded a pastorate of eight years to accept a call to Trinity Church at Baltimore, near Columbus.

In connection with its meeting tomorrow evening, the Grade School Mothers' Club will attend the cooking school in the High School auditorium, after which it will have its business meeting and refreshments in the home economics room.

Rev. J. E. Longworth of Wintersville Methodist Church, brother of Rev. W. S. Longworth, pastor, will be the preacher at week of dedication services in the Columbiana church at 8 p.m. today and tomorrow. At the union Lenten service in the same church at 8 p.m. Thursday, Rev. J. Franklin Baxter of the Christian Church will preach, and there will be special music by members of his congregation.

HARRY EBERHART will show motion pictures at the March meeting of the Columbiana Booster Club in the High School cafeteria at 8 p.m. tomorrow. The directors will be in session preceding the club meeting.

Guest night for children will be observed by the Columbiana Music Study Club at its March meeting in Westminster hall of the Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m. tomorrow. Children will present the program. Members having children who will per-

WHO'S TO BLAME FOR THE STATE OF THIS NATION?

WHO'S TO BLAME —

1. FOR ALL THE DOMESTIC TROUBLES WE HAVE?
2. FOR ALL THE LAWS CONTROLLING OUR LIVES AND LIBERTY?
3. FOR HIGHER TAXES AND INFLATION?
4. FOR THE SIZE OF OUR NATIONAL DEBT?
5. FOR ALL THE CONFUSION WE HAVE?

LET'S STOP BLAMING "SOMEBODY ELSE"

THERE JUST AREN'T ENOUGH "OTHER PEOPLE"
TO CAUSE ALL THE EVIL AND CONFUSION
WHICH WE HAVE TODAY!

HOW OFTEN HAVE YOU
FAVORED LAWS WHICH TOOK THE TAX MONEY OF SOMEBODY ELSE FOR YOUR BENEFIT — WHICH INTERFERED WITH THEIR RIGHT TO OWN PROPERTY?

HOW OFTEN HAVE YOU
FAVORED LAWS WHICH FORCED
OTHERS TO DO THINGS YOU
WANTED — WHICH INTERFERED WITH THEIR LIVES AND THEIR LIBERTY?

HOW OFTEN HAVE YOU
BEEN INDIFFERENT TO YOUR RESPONSIBILITY AS AN AMERICAN CITIZEN — BY NOT CARING WHEN OTHERS PASSED LAWS WHICH TOOK YOUR PROPERTY OR INTERFERED WITH YOUR LIBERTY?

HOW LONG HAS IT BEEN SINCE YOU HAVE INSISTED THAT THE OFFICIAL ACTS OF YOUR REPRESENTATIVES IN GOVERNMENT BE IN ACCORDANCE WITH THIS MORAL PURPOSE —

EVERY INDIVIDUAL, in receiving the gift of LIFE from God, is given the responsibility of preserving, developing and perfecting that gift.

So every person is given INDIVIDUALITY — different faculties, different and various amounts of talent with which to assume the responsibility for his own existence.

Every individual is endowed by his Creator with the LIBERTY to use his God-given faculties for their intended purpose — and through the free use of those faculties to acquire PROPERTY.

Every individual also has a natural right, from God, to protect his God-given Life, Liberty and Property from the interference of any other individual — BECAUSE THESE THREE GIFTS OF GOD PRECEDE ALL MAN-MADE LAWS AND ARE SUPERIOR TO THEM.

Therefore, all individuals must have equal political rights and equal political duties. One group cannot claim certain rights for itself, while placing the duties on others. So if we are to keep our God-given rights —

THE PURPOSE OF OUR GOVERNMENT MUST BE —

"TO MAKE AND ENFORCE LAWS WHICH PROTECT EVERY INDIVIDUAL'S LIFE, LIBERTY AND PROPERTY FROM THE INTERFERENCE OF ANY OTHER INDIVIDUAL — AND THESE LAWS MUST PROTECT THE PEOPLE FROM GOVERNMENT ITSELF."

All history proves that when a government does not have this purpose it becomes immoral!

GUIDE TO FREEDOM

JUDGE ALL LAWS BY ASKING: —

Sanitary Whips Amvets; Demings Eliminated From Playoffs

Mullins Edge Pumpers, 61-57; Sanitary Pulls Upset, 53-44

Mullins Manufacturers earned their way into the finals of the Class A League championship last night when they managed to get past the last period splurge by the Demings Pumpers and triumph, 61-57, at the Memorial Building.

The Amvets, favored team of the loop, dropped the second game of the two-of-three series to the Sanitary, 53-44, forcing a playoff contest tonight at 9:30.

Other games played during the evening saw the Methodists stop St. Paul, 28-22, by holding them scoreless in the last period in the Class C League playoffs. Corso's Wine Shop slipped past Bloombergs in a rugged tilt, 61-59. The Republican Club also came through with a victory over the CIO in the Girls League playoffs, 24-13.

THE AMVETS, who did not floor their first team since some of their players journeyed to Cortland where they are entered in another tournament, found the Sanitary too tough in the last half of the fourth quarter.

The Sanitary quintet showed they weren't out of the playoffs as they opened the game by leading the Vets, 13-5, at the end of the initial quarter. However, the Amvets came back with 12 points to keep pace with their opponents although they were outscored 13-12.

With the Sanitary leading, 26-17, at halftime the Amvets racked in 15 points during the third canto while Sanitary had a 12-point period. The latter still held the lead at the end of the quarter, 38-32, but the Vets were slowly gaining on them and managed to close the gap and tie the score shortly after the fourth stanza started at 40-40.

The teams traded baskets and the Amvets followed with a fielder and ran the count to 44-42. The Sanitary meshed a foul shot and then a basket and outplayed the Vets in the last half of the period to come out the victor, 53-44.

Ray Kelly and Joe Keister were the Sanitary big guns as they meshed 16 and 14 points, respectively. John Fridon and Jack Haldeman hit for 13 markers apiece as the Amvets fell.

MULLINS LED throughout most of their game with Demings but the Pumper quintet outpointed them in the final two quarters and forced the Manufacturers into a freeze in the last four minutes of the game.

Mullins led the game at the end of the quarter, 18-10, and continued the pace during the second period, to lead, 35-23, at intermission.

Demings outscored the Manufacturers in the third quarter, 15-14, but it wasn't until the last frame that they started hitting the hoop with great consistency. Mullins went into a freeze in the final half of the last quarter and proved to be the victors, eliminating the Pumpers from competition for the title.

Sam Fridon led the Mullins quintet with 16 markers and was assisted by Goose McGaffick's 13 points. Dick Wyss, although blanketed well in the first half broke loose and totaled 12 markers for Demings. Ken Schoeni and Don Abrams assisted him with 10 points apiece for the Pumpers.

THE WINNER of the Amvet-Sanitary tonight will face the Mullins squad Wednesday evening in the first of a possible three-game series, providing the teams split in the first two games.

Fridley Sparks Tribe Win, 4-0

Wakefield Released; To Get Chisox Tryout

CLEVELAND (AP) — You'd think Cleveland sent its pitchers to school as well as the sluggers. Steve Gromek, Dick Rozek and Red Fahr—none of them upper crust in Tribe hurling circles—held the New York Giants to five hits yesterday. Cleveland blanked the National League champs, 4-0.

Although the Indians made it three straight over the Giants, they haven't hit one homer so far.

MANAGER AL LOPEZ released Dick Wakefield yesterday, explaining the club already had enough outfielders who bat left-handed. Wakefield, one-time bonus baby, announced he would try to join Chicago. Paul Richards, manager of the White Sox with whom Wakefield refused to play two years ago, said he'd give him a trial.

Rookie outfielder Jim Fridley held the big bat again in yesterday's game. He clouted two deep triples and ran his hits to seven in 12 times at bat this spring. Quincy Troupe's single after Fridley's first triple scored the opening run in the fourth inning. Bob Avila got home on an infield out in the fifth and Merrill Combs drove in the final two runs in the seventh with a triple.

THE INDIANS wind up their current four-game series with the Giants at Phoenix today, then move to San Diego for the first of a two-game stand there against Pittsburgh and San Diego. They won't be back here until March 24.

Billy Joe Davidson, the Indians' bonus hurler who reportedly signed for between $75,000 and $120,000 last year, left for Daytona Beach, Fla., farm training with just $42 in his pocket yesterday.

Billy Joe failed to show much of his promised stuff in his few mound appearances, but Coach Mel Harder says he's coming along all right.

Davidson admitted being scared of those line drives which boom off Major League bats. "Those fellows really hit hard."

Bowling Center Retains Leadership

The Salem Bowling Center Restaurant retained its lead in the Salem Women's Bowling Association tournament in the Washingtonville Recreation when the second part of team entries rolled in the tourney.

Hick's Restaurant of Columbiana replaced Fitzpatrick's Motor in second place in the standings as they rolled 2795 to move the Motor team with 2736 into third position.

The Hick's five rolled the actual high game with 1034 while Weikarts of Washingtonville was second with 1030.

The Booster team was Patterson Insurance of Columbiana with a 2631 score.

Individual actual high game honors went to Ethel Bricker and Catherine Calladine of Washingtonville as they rolled 215 and 214, respectively. Both women topped the previous high of Helen Caldwell of Salem with 213.

Next weekend the last 26 teams will bowl in the team event. The following two weekends the tournament will wind up with doubles and singles being rolled.

The present team standings are: Bowling Center, 2876; Hick's Restaurant, 2795; Fitzpatrick's Motor, 2736; Town Tavern, 2731; Leftovers, 2715; K of J, 2710; Hine Motor, 2706; Broomall Pontiac, 2700; Weikarts, 2694; and Deans, 2683.

Two Englishmen Golf Seagulls From Flight

WORTHING, England, (AP) — Keith and Malcolm Clayton were playing as partners in a two-ball foursome match at the Worthing Golf Club yesterday.

Keith drove from the first tee with the ball and killed a seagull in flight.

His brother Malcolm drove from the 15th tee with the same ball and killed a sea gull in flight.

QUESTION MARK—Veteran Detroit Pitcher Hal Newhouse is the big question mark of the Tigers' 1952 mound corps. If the speedy southpaw's arm holds up, the Motor City organization is expected to be in the thick of the American League pennant fight. He posted a 6-6 record last year.

Feller's Big Thrill Came When He Knew He Could Pitch Again

By HARRY GRAYSON

TUCSON, Ariz. (NEA)—Robert William Andrew Feller has struck out 2,338 American League batters. Bob has fanned 16, 17 and 18 at a rattle, that is in nine innings, in a season. Cleveland's great right-hander has pitched three no-hit, no-runners, 10 one-hitters. In six campaigns, he has won from 20 to 27.

So you ask Feller what was his biggest thrill and disappointment. Regarding the pulse-quicker, Feller, now 33, says:

"Well it could have been the no-hitter at Yankee Stadium, Apr. 30, 1946, but it wasn't."

"My biggest thrill came when I came out of the Navy in late August, 1945, after 44½ months, and beat Hal Newhouse and the Tigers, 4-2, striking out 12."

"That proved I could pitch again."

"THE BIGGEST disappointment? That's easy, too. It came when Johnny Sain beat me, 1-0, in the World Series game at Braves' Field in 1948. The Indians had men on second or third five times, yet failed to score."

"Phil Masi was on second base for the Bostons with two out in the eighth."

"Lou Boudreau and I had worked on the pick-off play since 1939, when he joined the Cleveland club late in the season. It got so I didn't have to count. I knew from where the shortstop was standing when the play was on."

FELLER MEETS A FRIEND—Cleveland Pitching Star Bob Feller discusses his marvelous baseball career with NEA Sports Editor Harry Grayson at the Indians' Tucson, Ariz., training camp.

WHO HELPED young Feller, came up with was Bobby Avila, the greatest kid pitcher in history, the most?

"Next to my father, Bill, who died in 1943, it was Cy Slapnicka, the Cleveland scout who signed me," says Feller, unhesitatingly. "He was an old minor league pitcher, and in the morning, when everybody else was finished, he'd take off his coat and show me how to hold runners on the bases and whatnot."

"Steve O'Neill steadied me. Rollie Hemsley helped, but the bulk of the credit belongs to Slapnicka."

"He's still a pretty good scout. The last first-class player he helped was me."

Hughes High School Retires Cager's Number

CINCINNATI (AP) — They won't be wearing No. 24 on the Cincinnati Hughes High School basketball team anymore.

That celebrated number, worn by the phenomenal Robin Freeman, was retired at a special athletic assembly yesterday. A record of his basketball accomplishments also was set aside for posterity.

Freeman compiled one of the most outstanding high school records in Ohio basketball history. He registered 790 points in 20 contests in his final season, just ended, for an average of 39.5 points a game.

Johnny Wooden, head basketball coach at UCLA since 1948, is a former star performer for Purdue University.

St. Bonaventure, Holy Cross, LaSalle Win NIT Contests; Dukes, St. Louis Play Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Hickey and Duddy Moore, whose St. Louis University and Duquesne teams make their first appearances in the National Invitation basketball tournament tonight, did a little scouting from the upstairs press box at Madison Square Garden last night.

They were somewhat less impressed by what they saw than the 18,310 enthusiastic fans who watched St. Bonaventure and LaSalle make their way into the semi-finals and Holy Cross come through belatedly with a smashing first-round victory.

St. Bonaventure, almost blowing a huge lead, barely outlasted Western Kentucky, 70-69. LaSalle provided the tournament's first real upset, whipping third-seeded St. John's of Brooklyn, 51-45.

Holy Cross came through with a flashy final quarter to rout Seattle University, 77-72.

LaSALLE'S Norm Grekin broke the tournament record for foul shooting when he netted 13 free throws in the second game. This new tournament mark lasted only until the next contest when Seattle's little Johnny O'Brien, topped it with 15.

O'Brien who scored more than 1,000 points in the regular season was held to three field goals. But his foul shooting equalled the Garden record of 15, made in 1947 by Mac Otten of Bowling Green.

Hickey, the serious little St. Louis coach who has an intense dislike for "control" basketball, watched St. Bonaventure botch an effort to slow down the action against Western Kentucky and remarked:

"I don't think any team can be good without a fast break. St. Bonaventure essentially is not a fast-breaking team and it didn't have the weapon when it was pressed. The game demonstrated the value of a pressing defense."

Tonight Duquesne goes against Holy Cross and St. Louis against Dayton in the remaining quarter final games. Duquesne and St.

Louis, seeded first and second, drew byes while Dayton trounced New York University, 81-66, last Saturday.

HICKEY, whose team plays the Bonnies next if it wins, gave them credit for "playing beautiful ball until the press upset them." St. Bonaventure, slow to start, nearly broke the game apart in the third quarter to run up a 60-50 lead, but they were in trouble as soon as the scrappy Kentuckians went after the ball.

Moore credited the smart St. John's defense with holding Tom Gola, the touted LaSalle freshman in check, but Ken Loeffler, the LaSalle coach who has lost to Moore's Dukes once this season, had a different version.

"Both teams played a bad game," he said. "And we'd rather play anybody but Duquesne—even the Philadelphia Warriors."

Complex Primary System Even Baffles Politicians But The Impact Of The Machinery Can Be Decisive

BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

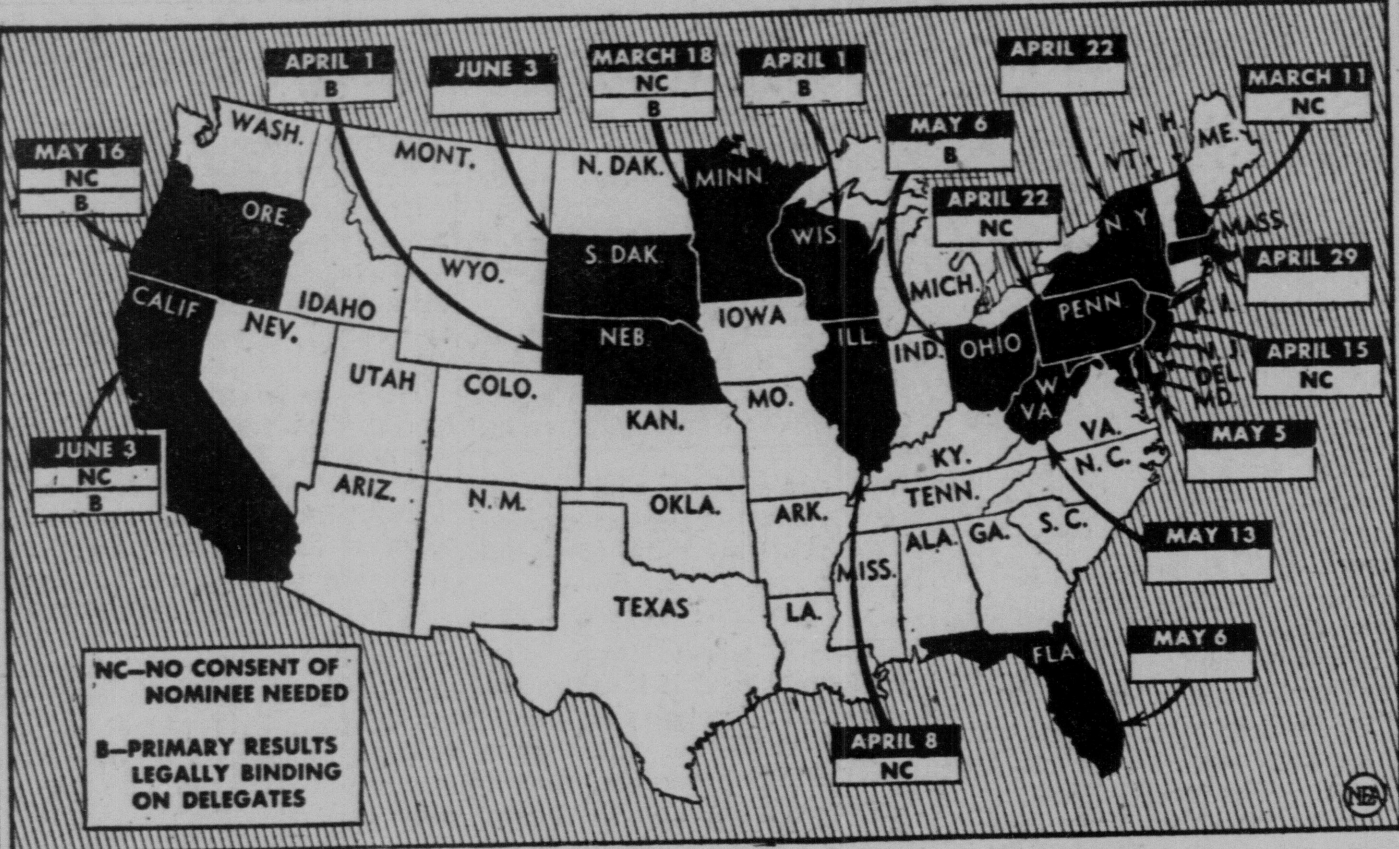

NEW YORK (NEA) — A man who works here for one of this year's presidential hopefuls wishes he could give up commuting. It isn't the service that's bad. But friends aboard his train keep pestering him to explain how the presidential primaries work, and most of the time he can't set them straight.

In Washington the other day a candidate called in the press to make some routine campaign announcements. Before he knew it, he and the reporters were all snarled up in the perplexities of these same primaries.

The experts and the amateurs agree that our presidential primary laws are monuments to the variety and ingenuity of the human mind. They even make our crazy-quilt divorce laws look like models of clarity. Candidates have to hire lawyers to determine whether it's wise to enter a particular state contest.

The kicks against this imperfect system are many. President Truman called it eyewash. Some of the most populous states, like New York, California and Massachusetts, don't have effective primaries. Michigan has none at all. Often the heralded results are merely advisory, not binding on national convention delegates. Small states sometimes carry undue weight in the national picture, especially if their voting is early, like New Hampshire's this time. Voters jump party lines to influence results in the opposition camp.

PRIMARIES are held regularly in 15 of the 48 states. In four others such a contest is optional — Florida, Alabama, Georgia and Arkansas. The remaining 29 pick delegates in state party conventions, district caucuses, by "party councils" not unlike the conventions, or by a state party committee. This year one optional, Florida, will hold a primary to join the 15 regulars — New Hampshire, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Illinois, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, Ohio, West Virginia, Oregon, California and South Dakota.

This sounds simple enough for a starter. But even here there's a gimmick. In Illinois and Minnesota a handful of delegates are picked later in state conventions. In New York, the state party committee selects a few.

In nine of the 16 states, there's a double feature. Voters elect national convention delegates and also mark a ballot for their presidential favorite. The latter part is usually called the "preference" primary, or popularity contest. These nine have it: Maryland, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Illinois, Minnesota, Nebraska and Oregon.

IN SEVEN OTHERS — California, South Dakota, Wisconsin,

Ohio, Massachusetts, New York, and Florida—the voting is just for delegates. A presidential candidate's name in most cases may appear atop the list of the delegates pledged to him, or beside individual delegates' names. But there is no direct presidential balloting.

Despite this, the Wisconsin affair normally commands as much interest as any in the nation. For one thing, it's viewed as a good barometer state. And, besides, candidates have often made it a personal battleground in their fight for delegates.

The most ticklish question is this: Are the results of the primary voting binding on the victorious delegates when they get to convention? Opinions differ widely on the meaning of the various laws. But a careful scrutiny of statute language indicates the voting may be fairly rated as legally binding in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio, Nebraska, Oregon and California—six out of 16.

In the other 10 states, the rules are varied and confusing. They'll be examined in the second article of this series. "Legally binding," in some states means that a delegate must stand by his candidate until he no longer has a chance to win, or can't corral a 10 per cent of the convention vote. In others, he is advised more generally to use his "best efforts" to obtain a candidate's nomination. In no instance is he considered permanently committed to vote for his man.

HERE'S ANOTHER important issue. Is a candidate's formal consent required before his name or a list of delegates can be submitted in the state? This question arises in 1952 because General Eisenhower, a top GOP entry, has said he will take no formal step to further his candidacy.

In the popularity voting, consent is required in Maryland, Nebraska and West Virginia. In the delegate contest, it is needed in Ohio, Wisconsin, and, if the delegate candidate wants to be pledged to a man, in Massachusetts, South Dakota and New Hampshire.

The Republican Party, for example, will end 1205 delegates to Chicago on July 7. A state's individual total is basically a figure double its electoral vote (25 electoral votes make 50 delegate votes). But both parties may also award bonus extras for good performances at past elections, such as the capture of the governorship or a Senate seat.

Add all the delegates elected in the 16 primaries and you'll have 589, just short of the 603 needed for a nominating majority in convention. But since in some states the results are advisory and the delegates always unpledged, the most a candidate could hope to win in primaries would be 433 delegates, roughly two-thirds what he needs.

This assumes that every delegate who could do so is pledged to him, and that he wins a 100 per cent victory in all states. If his complete triumph were limited to the six states where results are legally binding, his highest potential is 217.

But the candidates actually don't expect to score even this high in the primaries. They are interested in these contests as indicators of popular sentiment which will exert an influence upon the established party organizations that choose the delegates in 32 states.

It is in this indirect effect upon the party machinery that the presidential primary system makes itself felt. And the impact can be decisive.

Inability To Learn Blamed On TV, Films

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers declared yesterday that movies, television and comic books are largely to blame for children being unable to learn in school.

Addressing a regional convention of the American Association of School Administrators, Mrs. John E. Hayes of Twin Falls, Idaho, said children's minds are being stifled in an atmosphere of crime, Hollywood glitter and moral confusion. She added:

"The man on the street who denounces the school system for its failure to teach the simple facts of statesmanship and history, does not realize that his own preoccupation with his World Series, the Kentucky Derby or the Rose Bowl may have produced a pattern of interest in youth that leaves only a slight residue of interest for history and statesmanship."

Hi-Y Youths Run Lisbon, County Offices

LISBON—Teen-agers held the reins of village and county government this morning as up-county schools observe Hi-Y Civic Day.

They knocked off at noon for luncheon at the Youngstown Y. M. C. A. and a talk by Charles E. Noble of Syracuse University.

Then this afternoon they toured the Industrial Exposition at Stambaugh Auditorium.

Norman Broscoe, Hi-Y advisor, said 16 students participated. Roles for the day:

Richard White, mayor; Charles Zellers, chief of police; Robert Ward, street commissioner; Richard Henthorne, patrolman; Nick Pinick, fire chief.

Vincent Catanzarite, sheriff; Roger Swartz, county engineer; Paul Granger, county commissioner; Allen Westover, county auditor; Roger Boring, county treasurer; and Gordon Moss and Karl Henry, deputy sheriffs.

Jack Pozene, superintendent of schools; Robert Hamilton, principal; Dean Rose, manager of the Firestone Bank, and Robert MacAleese, manager of the Farmers National Bank.

Other county students in positions at the Courthouse were: Charles Norman of East Palestine and Ed Burkey of Columbiana, sheriff's department; Robert Istick of East Palestine, clerk of courts, Warren Ashbaugh and Donald Chick, both of East Palestine, commissioners, Ed Miller of Columbiana, probate court, Eugene Hay, of East Palestine, Juvenile court, and Donald Milliken of Columbiana, Common Pleas Court.

Three girls from Hi-Tri organizations were represented: Marylee Aldrich of East Palestine, auditor, Mary Lou McCaughy of Columbiana, recorder, and Carolyn Gano of Columbiana, county welfare department.

Brucellosis Tests Made Of County Cattle

Dr. Elbert B. Jasper of Cadiz today began running ring tests on milk from Columbiana County herds as part of the county's Brucellosis control program.

Floyd Lower, county extension agent, said township workers have been employed to collect milk samples from all herds, and bring them to the state laboratory set up in the county garage at Lisbon.

Herd owners are to take a teaspoonful of milk from each can and place it in bottles left by the collectors.

Herds reacting positive or doubtful will be offered a blood test by the state to find which cows are infected. Local veterinarians will assist with the blood test, Lower said.

The ring test is the fourth applied in the county. The last one was in June, 1951.

Columbiana Man Faces Morals Charge Trial

LISBON — William H. Hisey, 36, of Columbiana, indicted by the January Grand Jury on a charge of sodomy, was released Monday under $1,500 bond for trial the week of March 24.

Hisey pleaded guilty Sept. 20 during a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Felix Butch. However, at arraignment, Jan. 21, his counsel entered a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity.

Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp ordered Hisey committed to the Youngstown Receiving Hospital for mental tests. Reports show him sane.

WEATHER TAKES CHICAGOANS FOR A SLEIGH RIDE.—"Mushing" through the snow, Dave Irwin takes Trudy Dyer for a ride on his dog sled in the wake of a wind-whipped snowstorm that slowed bus and automobile travel in Chicago. The snow blocked some roads, closed many suburban schools and curtailed air travel.

Morgan Fined, Jailed For Bus Theft Attempt

LEETONIA — Jack Morgan of Columbiana was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three months in jail by Mayor Paul Sevenich last night for smashing a school bus in an attempt to steal it Monday morning.

Morgan was arrested at 4:30 a.m. Monday after he crashed the nose of the bus through a garage wall trying to start it. Dwight Graham, in whose garage the vehicle was kept, was awakened by the sound of the motor and hit Morgan on the head as he squeezed out the bus door.

The bus was owned by the Fairfield Local board of education.

Wall Street

Stocks Regain Part Yesterday's Losses

NEW YORK (INS)—The stock market appeared to have regained its equilibrium today after yesterday's decline on the rail strike news.

Although many trading favorites continued to lose ground, sufficient buying power developed to lift selected issues into higher territory.

Despite the better tone today, Wall Street brokers continued to counsel caution on the part of their clients. They pointed out that even should the walkout on the New York Central end speedily, the threat of a strike in the steel industry still loomed in the background.

In this connection, it was noted that steel shares were in supply at fractionally lower levels, particularly U. S. Steel and Bethlehem. Other industrial favorites to ease were Standard Oil of New Jersey, International Nickel and Socony-Vacuum. Small gains were posted by Radio Corporation, Anaconda, General Electric and U. S. Rubber.

Among the rails, fractional losses were sustained by Northern Pacific, Southern Railway and Great Northern.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Wheat and soybeans pushed ahead at the opening of today's board of trade session, while feed grains showed mostly minus signs.

Wheat opened 3/4¢ higher than yesterday's close, March $2.55 1/4; corn was 1/4¢ higher to 1/2¢ lower, May $1.85 1/4; and oats were unchanged to 1/4¢ lower, May $7 1/4. Soybeans were 1/2¢ lower to 1/4¢ higher, March 2.99 1/4-3.00.

LISBON — Two Wellsville youths, 14 and 16, were sentenced to indeterminate terms in the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster for burglary Monday afternoon by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

They and a third youth, who was turned over to his parents, were arrested over the weekend. Wellsville police said their confessions cleared up a string of eight burglaries.

Townships Get Funds For Road Repairs

County Auditor Irvin J. Vorndran today announced $10,302 as the county's share of $500,000 appropriated last year by the legislature from the truck license fund.

It is for distribution to the townships on a ration of roughly $11.95 for every mile of township road. Columbiana has 861 miles.

Checks were mailed Monday. In the following distribution, mileages—shown in parenthesis—and totals are in nearest round numbers:

West (69) $850; Middleton (59) $713; St. Clair (59) $711; Unity (59) $708; Madison (59) $708; Hanover (58) $692; Center (57) $689; Elkrun (55) $663; Knox (52) $628; Butler (52) $622; Fairfield (46) $555; Wayne (45) $538; Salem (38) $453; Yellow Creek (35) $417; Franklin (34) $405; Liverpool (29) $347; Washington (28) $335; and Perry (24) $287.

Threats

Mary, that she should advise her husband "to take out a larger insurance policy and not to take long walks."

Peene immediately was given a police guard at his service station, while his wife and their two small children were sent under guard to an undisclosed shelter.

Monaghan said police were "passing up nothing." They roamed used-car lots and garages for a suspected murder car. They followed up more than 100 "crackpot calls and boasts by bar-room drunks." They rounded up dozens of known hoodlums in underworld haunts.

Young Schuster's funeral also came under tight scrutiny as a score of detectives and swarms of uniformed police, hoping to find a clue, watched a crowd of some 2,000 persons.

Mourners muttered threats of vengeance. Women wailed. Schuster's father, Max, and mother, Ethel, had to be supported. The mother collapsed at one time.

The only name mentioned in the police hunt thus far is that of Frederick J. (The Angel) Tenuto, a convicted murderer who broke out of Holmesburg, Pa., prison with Sutton in 1947.

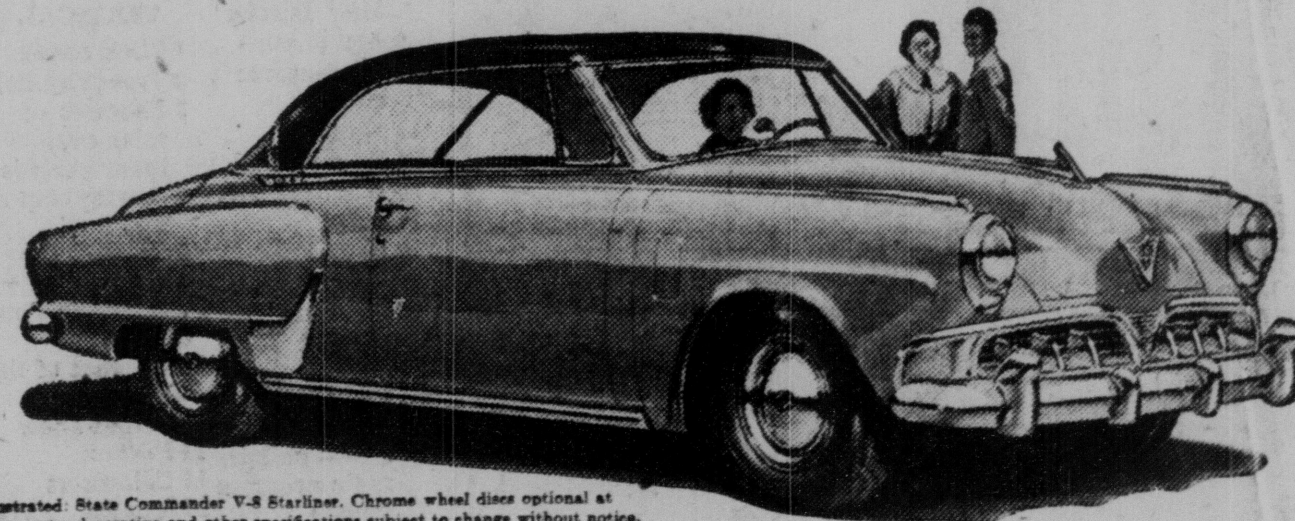

Other theories are that Schuster might have been shot by a crackpot hero-worshipper, who took it upon himself to avenge Sutton, or by underworld figures who sought to make his death a warning to other citizens not to tip police.

Meeting Night Changed

Columbiana County Public Health League's annual meeting, scheduled April 14, has been changed to Wednesday night, April 16, according to Miss Lillian Schroeder, executive secretary.

Place of meeting is still undecided. Miss Jane South of New York City, a tuberculosis nursing advisor, will speak.
